We have listened to you and the concerns you raised and prioritised the following:

Priority 1: Road Safety

You said: Road Safety issues was an issue on your area.

What we are going to do: We will be utilizing beat surgeries to educate motorists and issue traffic offence reports and anti-social behaviour notices to motorists drivers committing offences or using their vehicles in an anti-social manner.

Priority 2: Anti Social Behaviour

You Said: Anti-social behaviour was an issue on your area.

What we are going to do: Patrol areas which are hotspots for anti-social behaviour and positively engage with youth where possible. We will also be utilizing our anti-social behaviour incremental approach to deal with individuals who commit anti-social behaviour offences.

Priority 3: Burglaries

You said: Burglaries was an issue on your area.

What we are going to do: Conduct high visibility patrols in the areas to act as a visible deterrent to those who want to commit burglaries on our area. We will also be offering crime prevention advice to members of the public and handing out burglary prevention packs to victims.

We did:

In relation to road safety: Enquiries are ongoing with regards to a street where a number of untaxed and non MOT'd vehicles have been reported. I have been liaising with EMH in relation to this matter and am hoping to conclude this case in the near future.

In relation to anti-social behaviour: I have been investigating a number of ASB incidents over the last month involving youths causing issues in the area including joyriding and being rowdy late at night disturbing residents. Enquiries are ongoing with some of these cases and we are looking to try to identify individuals involved.

In relation to burglaries: I have been working with my colleagues in CID to assist in the investigation of burglary offences that have occurred on the area. I have been visiting victims and providing burglary packs to them to help prevent them being targeted again.

Are you worried about becoming a victim of burglary?

There are many measures that can be put in place to help protect you, your family and property such as the following:

- Registering your property on immobilise.com this is a free national property register which can help the police to identify the rightful owners of recovered property.
- Using a forensic property marking solution such as SelectaMark or SmartWater. This is a UV marking solution with its own individual DNA Police can use UV lights to find the solution, identify the owner of the property and return it to them.
- Keep doors and windows locked at all times even when at home.
- Use window shock alarms.
- Use light timers.
- Restrict access to the rear of the property.
- Install a burglar alarm. Even a dummy alarm box on the front of your property is a good deterrent.
- Install security lights.
- Install CCTV and a doorbell camera.
- Install a door chain and spyhole on your front door.
- Use a safe for valuables and hide the safe. Even better use bank lock boxes so your valuables are not on the property.
- Join or start a neighbourhood watch scheme by visiting ourwatch.org some home insurers will even offer a discount on your home insurance if you are part of a scheme.
- Utilise our reporting online facility to report incidents so you don't have to wait in a queue on the telephone.
