Crime Review

February has seen a decrease in burglary dwellings within Glenfield, the burglaries that have been committed are using very similar modus operandi. The method of entry used is by entering properties through an insecure door. Please be mindful in regards to locking doors and be vigilant if persons are seen to be acting suspicious around your area.

There has been an increase in theft from motor vehicles; three of the reported crimes have been committed on Glenfield Frith Drive. This was by unknown person(s) smashing car windows to take property within; this was a one off incident that appeared to happen in the early hours of the morning. There has been one report of a robbery also, this happened on Stamford Street and both suspect and victim know each other. The assaults and public order has increased from January but again the victim and suspect know each other.

The reduction of burglaries may have been apparent due to the volume of police presence within Glenfield, which is a part of a current initiative to combat burglaries. Response officers are being tasked with entering Glenfield for a period of time to attempt to deter criminality. Visits are being made on a daily basis to offenders who cause the police most harm; this also appears to be decreasing criminality.
